

MIDDLE CHILDHOOD MATTERS - LANGLEY and TRINITY WESTERN UNIVERSITY MA COUNSELLING PSYCHOLOGY present

YOUTH RESILIENCY CONFERENCE

With special guest speaker

Dr. Denise Buote

Dr. Buote works as an evaluation and development consultant to educational, social services, and counselling programs, and is a sessional instructor at UBC. She has an extensive research background, specializing in child and youth mental health and well-being. Her doctoral work focused on examining the relation between attachment and resiliency, and she has recently completed work on Dr. Kimberly Schonert-Reichl's Middle Childhood Matters study, where she was the research coordinator. Most recently, she is embarking on the development of a non-profit organization aimed at fostering resiliency in children and adolescents through community-based programs.

Visit her website at www.arboreducational.com

9:30-11:30 am - "FREE" morning session—Open to the Public & all TWU Students

"Building Resiliency: Promoting Practices into Community Services Programming"

11:30am-12:30pm—CPSY Student Poster Presentation

1:00-4:00 pm—WORKSHOP for PROFESSIONALS***
"Resiliency and Attachment in Clinical Practice"

$50 registration fee for community professionals
TWU-CPSY Alumni - $25 registration fee

Conference Date: Friday, February 20, 2009

*Pre-registration for the Workshop is required by February 17th

Location: TWU Campus - 7600 Glover Rd, Langley, B.C.
Reimer Student Centre - Main Cafeteria

For Pre-registration or More Information:
email laurie.donaldson@twu.ca or phone 604-513-2034

Sponsored by:
The Langley Child & Youth Committee
and TWU-MA Counselling Psychology

Special Thanks to
The United Way
for their support