

REGISTERING FOR CLASSES IS EXCITING!

It's relatively easy, too. This step-by-step planner will help you prepare and sign up for courses when registration opens in May (fall term) or November (spring term). Feel free to contact your admissions counsellor if you need any help at any point in the process.

PREPARING YOUR SCHEDULE:

Visit twu.ca/courseereg

This is your online hub for all things related to course registration. Follow the three easy steps.

Step 1: The Basics

Read through The Basics to familiarize yourself with TWU terminology.

Step 2: Find your first-year courses

Choose the term you want to start classes (Fall or Spring) to find your first-year courses. You may find it helpful to use the timetable on the back of this sheet.

Settled on a schedule? List all of your courses and semester hours here.

COURSE NAME	APPROX. SEM. HOURS
FNDN 101	1 sem. hour
TOTAL SEM. HOURS

Step 3: Register for Courses

Read this page before your registration day for all the best tips and tricks for using the registration website. On registration day, login and register for your courses.

And . . . you're done! Slip your timetable into to your notebook or snap a photo of it for easy reference on your first week of class.
