“As an intimate and engaging place to learn and live, TWU allowed me to grow as a learner, a doer, and a human being. Importantly, friendship—with classmates, dorm mates, and professors—was at the core of my time at TWU. My friends continued to encourage and invest in me as I worked towards law school. At Harvard Law, and in my recent summer internship with the United Nations in Santiago de Chile, I have known that TWU equipped me to thrive in the classroom, and in the broader world.”

WHAT OUR GRADUATES SAY

“I’m a social media strategist at one of the most-followed brands. My job didn’t exist when I was a student at Trinity Western. So understanding that media and communications are always changing, and that you always have to be learning, sets you up not just for a job after graduation but one that might exist 10 years from now. What I learned from the community at TWU—the lessons from outside of the classroom—really shaped who I am.”

Otis Kimzey '04

Communications (Mass Media)

“My professors are some of the most dedicated people I know. They truly want me to succeed and be the best teacher ever. TWU has put me firmly on the path toward my dream career with all of the help and support I need.”

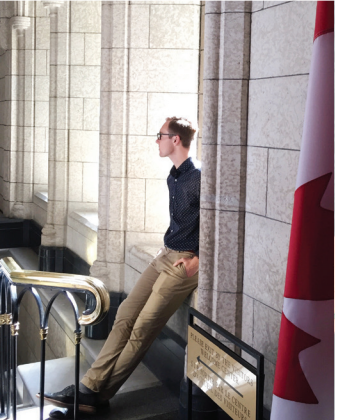

Jessica Ehrenholz '16
Chilliwack, BC
Education

“My introduction to research and education at Trinity Western has motivated me to further my studies with graduate school. My end goal is a career that has a balance between research and education. I’m grateful that TWU gave me experience in both of these fields, with opportunities to teach freshman chemistry labs and complete research in France during the summer.”

WHERE WILL YOUR JOURNEY LEAD?

“I began to sense that God had given me the privilege of a university education as a sacred responsibility for service. What I learned at Trinity Western gave me the courage to step out in faith when God called us to serve him in Rwanda.”

Richard Taylor '02

Kigali, Rwanda
International Studies

“There are plenty of smart people in the world, but the challenges that we face cannot be addressed by intelligence alone. TWU cultivates young leaders to acquire a healthy understanding of the world we live in, skills for the workplace, and the character to make a difference wherever they go.”

Jeffery Komant '02

Kigali, Rwanda
International Studies

Wellspring founders Jeffery Komant and Richard Taylor were born and raised in Africa. While still students at Trinity Western, the two were inspired to help Rwandan Christians rebuild their country following the 1994 genocide. From there, the vision was born for an entirely different type of education that would empower a new generation of Rwandan leaders. Through their Langley-based Wellspring Foundation for Education, and by partnering with a local church in Kigali, Rwanda to build Wellspring Academy, their team has been able to train hundreds of Rwandan teachers and launch an innovative School Development Program, now adopted in over 70 African schools. Bringing it all full circle, one of Wellspring Academy's first graduates is now attending classes here at TWU!
